Core Idea

Your energy determines how many people engage with your stall.

Why It Matters

People respond more to people than products.

What To Do

- Stand instead of sitting.
- Make eye contact and smile.
- Initiate valuable conversations confidently.
- Keep body language open and inviting.
- Stay consistent throughout the day.

Co-Founder's Words

People are drawn to energy. A lively, engaging presence can attract more visitors than any banner. Smile, speak, and show genuine excitement about your product. Your attitude sets the tone for the entire stall experience and directly impacts how many people choose to engage with you.
